User-centric Design for a More Pleasant Experience

Details matter. The W56P has a larger 2.4-inch 240x320-pixel color screen with backlit that clearly presents an intuitive user interface. The model also features a larger and more comfortable backlit keypad that on-the-go users will find especially convenient to use.

Effortless Deployment and Flexible Management

The W56P is also an IT-friendly solution. With Yealink’s free Redirection and Provisioning Service (RPS), the W56P supports auto provisioning and updates, which greatly simplifies mass deployment. Furthermore, the W56P supports three levels of user access, which allows for the customization of access permission for configuration, bringing greater flexibility and security to phone management.
